Nootka Tree

Callitropsis

nootkatensis.

Nootka Tree Oil is carefully distilled from the Nootka Tree (Callitropsis nootkatensis) - a majestic conifer that grows in British Columbia and Alaska.

The tree is of great importance to the First Nations of the Pacific Northwest who use it for many of their carvings. In fact, it's from the Nootka Tribe that the Nootka Tree gets its name. And curiously enough, it's from the Nootka Tree that Nootkatone (the grapefruit ingredient) gets its name.
